SINGULAR FREAK OF LIGHTNING.

A Tree Photographed upon the Person of a Lady.

From the Franklin (Ky.) Sentinel, Sept. 26.]

The following incident was related in our presence at the "Boisseau Hotel," on Friday morning, by a gentleman from Butler county. He stated that, during a severe storm which passed recently over the village of Morgantown, in that county, a young lady was standing at the window of a private residence, looking out upon the contending elements, when suddenly a flash of lightning passed through the window, severely shocking the young lady, but otherwise doing no damage. Upon investigation, it was ascertained that the likeness, or photograph, of a beautiful alanthus tree, which stood in the immediate front of the window, by the electric flash had been impressed upon the bosom of the young lady, where it still remains plainly visible, and with all the indelibleness of the natural flesh.

From the Reno (Cal.) Crescent, Sept. 12th.]

Last Saturday evening was very cloudy, and the sky surrounding Reno seemed completely suffused with electricity. The lightning blazed incessantly for two hours; and nearly all the time the thunder came to us in muffled moans, as it used to back in God's country, when a summer shower had passed by. Still only a few drops of rain fell in Reno, and no one here thought the storm was nearer than about five or eight miles distant. But in Morris' tin shop, of this place, one of those strange phenomena took place which happens at rare intervals in the world. Morris noticed that a boy in his establishment was handling the tools very gingerly, and he asked him why he did so. The boy said something was the matter with them. Morris caught hold of an iron which the boy was attempting to use, and let right go of it again. He then seized the big scissors, used by tinners for cutting tin, and they retaliated by sending him stumbling, stunned and almost falling, across the shop. Then, as if the evil one had commenced a game of billiards, little balls of fire commenced hopping about, kissing bits of iron here and there, and making grand caroms on the coal furnace. Morris speedily took a hint, concluded everything metallic was charged with electricity, and feeling uncertain when it might make a charge on him, he did not stand on the order of his going, but left the shop at once. Next morning the evil spirit had been exorcised, and since then the tin shop has been quiet.

I. O. OF O. F.

Installation of Officers—Close of the Session.

BALTIMORE, September 26, 1868.—All the officers were present excepting the Grand Chaplain. Prayer was offered by Representative Perkins, Grand Chaplain pro tem., and the Grand Lodge was proclaimed open for business.

The report of Representative Simpson, of Pennsylvania, from the Legislative Committee, adopted yesterday afternoon, relative to the re-admission of suspended members into the Order, was reconsidered and laid over till the next session for final action.

A resolution was adopted granting permission to subordinate lodges and encampments to assist with their funds the institution and establishment of new lodges and encampments in either their own or other jurisdictions.

The special order set apart for this morning—that of the Grand Lodge of the United States holding its next session in San Francisco—was then taken up, when the Chairman of the Committee on Mileage and Per Diem reported that after a computation of the mileage it was found that the expense of concentration at Omaha, instead of Baltimore, would add to the cost of the session only about $800. After considerable debate the Grand Lodge agreed by an almost unanimous vote to accept the invitation from the Representatives of California, as follows:

Resolved, That the next Annual Communication of this R. W. Grand Lodge be held in the city of San Francisco, in the State of California, and that the officers and members of this R. W. Grand Lodge be requested to assemble at Omaha, Neb., on the 10th day of September, 1869, to be conveyed thence by the Great Pacific railroad across the continent to the city of San Francisco. And that the mileage to be paid to the Representatives by this R. W. Grand Lodge on that occasion shall be computed from their respective homes to and from the said city of Omaha, excepting the Representatives from jurisdictions on the Pacific slope, whose mileage shall be computed to and from San Francisco; provided that if the said Pacific railroad shall not be completed and running regular trains through between Omaha and Sacramento City by the first day of August, 1869, so that the Representatives can be conveyed through without change of cars or detention, then and in that case the M. W. Grand Sire shall on the first issue his proclamation calling the Grand Lodge to assemble in annual communication in the city of Baltimore, in the State of Maryland.

On motion, it was resolved, in consideration of the passage of laws for the alteration of the regalia to be worn by members of the Order, that the officers of subordinate lodges be required to wear the jewels of their office during lodge business.

The subject of changing the title of the Grand Lodge of the United States was again taken up, considered and final action deferred till next session.

After a brief secret session the Grand Sire elect, E. D. Farnsworth, of Tennessee, presented by Representatives Page, of Wisconsin, and Scully, of Tennessee, was duly installed for the next two years.

Frederick D. Stuart, of the District of Columbia, Deputy Grand Sire elect, presented by Representatives Stokes, of Pennsylvania, and Logan, of Kansas, was then duly installed.

James L. Ridgely, of Maryland, Grand Corresponding and Recording Secretary, presented by Representatives Leech, of Iowa, and Kingsbury, of Maine, was installed for his fourteenth term (of two years each.)

The Grand Sire then made the following appointments, which were confirmed, and the officers named duly installed:

Grand Messenger—J. E. Chamberlain, of Maryland.

The retiring Grand Sire then made an eloquent address, thanking the Grand Lodge for all the aid rendered him in the discharge of his duties, and admonishing them to persevere in their labors to the end, and closed with presenting the gavel to the Grand Sire elect.

Upon accepting this emblem of authority and taking the chair, Grand Sire, Farnsworth, also ably and feelingly addressed the lodge.

After a few words from Deputy Grand Sire elect, F. D. Stuart, and prayer by the Grand Chaplain, the Grand Lodge, at half past seven o'clock, was declared adjourned sine die.

One More Lie.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.]

The New York Herald, a few days since, and the Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday, published the following, with much comment of the loyal "kind:"

BANGOR, Me., August 21, 1868.

Somers Kenney, Esq., Houston, Texas:

My Dear Sir: Yours of the 24 inst., dated at Brownsville, was forwarded to me from Cincinnati. In reply, I have only to say that you cannot urge too strongly our brethren of Texas to stand by the National Democracy, and resist all Radical attempts to abase you. My heartfelt wish is that you may succeed in your new undertaking. We are making a last fight for constitutional liberty, and the signs of the times indicate a Democratic triumph hitherto unknown. Yield not a scintilla of your honor. There is no room for compromise. About your being allowed vote, be not alarmed; we shall see that Texas is represented. Vote, by all means. Send me your paper to Cincinnati. I will write more fully to-morrow or the day after.

Yours, truly,
GEORGE H. PENDLETON.

The following dispatch, received yesterday, is all that is worth while to say about this matter:

CINCLEVILLE, OHIO, September 28, 1868.

J. B. McCullagh, Enquirer Office:

The letter in the Commercial of today to Kenney, of Texas, from Maine, is a forgery. I never heard of the man or the letter.

GEORGE H. PENDLETON.

The Russian Empire.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.]

The Russian Empire, according to the official census of 1866, just published, contains about 8,078,054 English square miles, or nearly three times the extent of the United States. Of this vast territory, much the larger portion, or nearly six million square miles, lie in Asia, where the empire is constantly extending its boundaries. The following list of the great empires of the world exhibits the comparative territorial importance of the empire: 1. Russia, 8,078,-054 square miles; 2. China, 4,677,347 square miles, 3. British Empire, 4,420,-134 square miles; 4. United States, 3,-486,749 square miles; 5. Brazil, 3, 231,621 square miles; 6. Turkey, 1,913,460 square miles. The population of Russia is nearly 80,000,000. In this respect it is the third State—the Chinese Empire, with 480,000,000, and the British, with 200,000,000, preceding it. The increase of population is slow. The birth rate is higher than any European country, but the mortality is much greater. The number of inhabitants to one birth in Russia is 20; in Prussia, 25; Austria, 27; Spain, 27; England, 31; France, 39. The number of inhabitants to one death in Russia is 26; Prussia, 38; Austria, 36; Spain, 36; England, 53; France, 43.

THE CHURCH.

General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, which holds its session once in three years, will meet in the city of New York on the 7th of October next. Bishop Stevens, of Pennsylvania, in a late circular, referring to the fact, says:

In this great council of our church will be gathered, for the first time since 1859, bishops, clergy, and laity from all of the United States. It will comprise a larger number of dioceses than any of our previous councils. The business which will be brought before it is of the deepest importance to the well being of the church, now and hereafter.

The erection of six or seven new dioceses and missionary jurisdictions; the election, and perhaps consecration of several bishops; the re-adjustment of our code of canons to new phases of church growth and action; the various memorials touching vital points of faith, ritual and discipline, which will be presented; the recasting of the whole foreign missionary work of the Church; the needed revision of the course of studies for candidates for Holy Orders, as prescribed by the House of Bishops; the devising of new and enlarged agencies of church education and church extension; the methods by which we can best minister to the spiritual needs of the poor, the working classes, the freedmen, the fallen of every grade, on the one hand, as well as reach and successfully grapple with the various forms of rationalism and unbelieving science on the other. These and other equally great questions, each big with untold consequences, will engage the deliberation of the legislative council. In addition to these matters, which pertain specifically to conventional action, there are many other topics connected with the operation of the several great voluntary societies in the Church, which hold their meetings at the same time, and the proceedings of which will have a moulding influence on the Church at large.

TEA.

The New Crop at Higher Prices.

By the Pacific Mail steamer Henry Chauncey which arrived at this port last week, the first lot of new crop teas was received at this port. The opening prices of green teas by late advices from China, are reported to be considerably higher than last year. The shipments of the season to Great Britain, at latest telegraphic advices, had been 81,500,000 against 52,000,000 for the same period of 1867. The London Produce Markets Review comments as follows on the condition of the trade:

Notwithstanding the large quantity of tea placed on the market from recent arrivals, and the general inclination on the part of merchants to sell, the trade have not been buyers except of the finest grades, and even then they have only purchased in the most sparing manner; while the medium and common sorts, which so largely predominate, are quite neglected, and prices for these descriptions are now from 3d to 4d below the opening rates. High and disproportionate as were the first prices paid, there is no doubt that this class of tea has fallen to a price somewhat approximating to its merits. On the other hand, the few parcels of superior quality have moved off freely, and prices have been maintained. For the present we do not look for any fall in the finer kinds, owing to the active competition of shippers, but as soon as their wants are satisfied there must be a reaction, as the grocers generally are too deeply committed to low prices to admit of their buying any large quantity of tea over 2s per pound; buyers of tea should never lose sight of this fact, as the sooner it is practically applied in the purchasing of tea, the sooner will trade return to its usual activity. All activity in any branch of the tea trade is, however, checked by the enormous exports from China; and the folly of thus pouring so large a proportion of the year's crop into our market in the space of a few weeks, is the more to be regretted, as it is by no means certain that the total imports of the year will be in excess of our requirements, and, the course pursued, will perhaps lead to undue depression at one period of the year, to be followed by a speculative reaction as the season advances. By a telegram from Hong Kong, dated 20th August, we learn that the exports from China and Japan to that day were 81,000,000 pounds, against 52,000,000 pounds to the 12th of August, the nearest corresponding date on which a message was sent last year.

In 1667 Charleston, S. C., imported a million and a half bushels of corn from the North, to say nothing of wheat and other articles of food. Now the tide has turned, and South Carolina is supplying her own wants, and exporting cereals. The Charleston Courier says: "The turning point has been reached. Hence orth we shall draw our food from the adjacent section."

A dispatch from Grinnell Station, Union Pacific Railroad, East Division, states that Col. Forsyth arrived at Fort Wallace on Monday, and is doing well. Among the killed are Lieutenant F. H. Beecher, Acting Surgeon Moore, shot in the head while dressing Col. Forsyth's wounds; T. W. Culver, Wm. Wilson and Louis Wilson. The wounded are, Col. G. A. Forsyth, twice; Wm. Armstrong, G. R. Gantt, John Haley, Frank Harrington, W. H. H. McCall, Howard Martin, Thomas O'Donnel M. L. Tucker, Louis McLaughlin, Harry Davenport and S. R. Davis.

The Dominion of Canada is about sending a declaration to England to ask for the extension of their boundaries towards the northwest. The Montreal papers argue that the Central Pacific Railroad, when completed, will send out branches to the north, and thus draw the trade of Western British America to the main line. In this way the people on the Red River Colony will be attracted to the United States, and Great Britain will lose its hold upon the affections of the settlers. The territory bordering on the Saskatchewan and Red rivers is therefore to be annexed to the Dominion, and communication is to be maintained by means of a railroad, or, at all events, by a wagon road to Fort Garry.

The Federal army, notwithstanding the assertions of writers hostile to this country, was principally composed of citizens of the United States. Prof. B. A. Gould has recently compiled very full statistics on the subject of the respective nationalities of the members of the Union army, from which it appears that white soldiers from the loyal States and Territories, excluding the Pacific, can be classed as follows: From the United States, 1,52?,300; Germany, 178,800; Ireland, 144,200; British America 53,500; England, 45,500; other foreign countries, 45,400; unknown, 26,200—making a total of 2,013,500. The per centage of natives of the United States is extremely large, amounting to near 75 per cent.

In the State of Indiana the canvass presents the most gratifying appearance. A prominent gentleman of New York city, who has just made a tour of that State, gives the most encouraging accounts from that section. He states that there is not the least particle of doubt of the election of Thomas A. Hendricks as Governor, and that there will be an increase of the Democrats in the Congressional delegation. This statement coincides with those of private letters from those in a position to be the best judges of the sentiment of the people in that State. The coolness and the effrontery of the Radicals in their boastings in reference to other States excel anything even in the Radical line.

The cable has brought the news of the death, at Paris, of Count Walewski, a well known statesman and diplomatist. Florian Alexandre Joseph Colonna, Count Walewski, was born in Walewice, Poland, on the 4th of May, 1810. He is supposed to have been the son of Napoleon I, by a Polish lady. He early distinguished himself as an advocate of Polish nationality, going to London in 1829 in behalf of his suffering country. After the revolution of 1830, he entered the French army, but soon retired, wrote several plays and political pamphlets, and edited the Messenger, a newspaper. He was appointed to several minor political missions under Louis Phillippe. On the accession of Napoleon he was sent as Minister Plenipotentiary to Florence, and afterward to Naples. In 1854 he became Embassador to London, and thence was called home to succeed Druyn de L'Huys as Minister of Foreign Affairs. Later, he occupied the place of Minister of State.

A New York letter writer says: Extreme low chirpmen have chalked out their programme for the General Convention. In brief, it is just this: An effort will first be made to obtain such a revision of the canons, rubrics, etc., as will serve to repress ritualism, and throw open the pulpit to clergymen who are without Episcopal ordination. Failing in that, they will secede and organize an independent church of their own, to be called "The Reformed Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America." The expectation is that several of the bishops will countenance and take part in this secession, but should that part of the programme not be realized, then they will go to work and create Provisional Bishops themselves. The arrangement contemplates no radical change in the Church that it is questionable whether all the evangelical leaders are quite ready to face the music. One of them, at least, gives notice that he cannot join it, and that it were best at present to stay in than go out of the Church. I refer to the Rev. John Cotton Smith, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, and one of the editors of the Protestant Churchman.

The death is announced of Mr. Shepard A. Mount, the distinguished portrait painter. He passed away, after a severe illness, at his residence, Stony Brook, Long Island, on the 18th ult. Mr. Mount was a native of Setauket, Long Island, where he was born July 17, 1804. He was consequently sixty-four years old at the time of his death. At an early age he exhibited a taste for art, and particularly for portrait painting. He was apprenticed, however, to Mr. Brewster, of New Haven, to learn the trade of carriage-making. He became an excellent workman, but during his leisure hours he continued to practice drawing. Having at last attracted notice by the perfection of his portraits, he established his studio and embarked in his new profession with ardor. He was chosen a member of the National Academy, and for many years past has ranked as one of the most finished of American artists.

☞Every workingman is taxed to help pay three hundred and sixty-six thousand dollars a day to support a standing army in time of peace. What use is made of the army? To force negro rule upon white men in the South, preparatory to adopting the same policy in the North. Was there ever a people thus insulted and outraged by a political party?

GEN. GORDON GRANGER.

It will be cheering news to our readers this morning, that Gen. GORDON GRANGER, so well known to our citizens as a Conservative officer of the regular army, has been ordered to the command of the Department of the Cumberland, during the absence at Washington of Gen. THOMAS. This Department includes Tennessee and Kentucky. Of course the Radicals will howl. With THOMAS in command they had things their own way, but with Gen. GRANGER at the head of the military force in this section, all classes may be assured that at any cost the public peace will be maintained, and unlawful militia assemblages and other riotous gatherings, by whomsoever ordered, be summarily suppressed.

THE TUSKALOOSA (ALA.) MONITOR.

Mr. RANDOLPH, editor of the above paper, was some time ago made the subject of a systematic persecution at the hands of the Radicals and the Freedmen's Bureau, of Tuskaloosa county, Ala., and those of the United States officers in command there until the reorganization of the State. Whatever Radical malignity could devise in the way of a refined torture, was resorted to by these parties, and knowing something of his nature, they succeeded in goading him into expressions that, perhaps, under other circumstances, his better nature and cooler judgment would have rejected. But, speaking as the editor of a public journal, patronized by the Democracy of the county, it was thought proper by the Democratic authorities of the county of Tuskaloosa, and of the State of Alabama, to repudiate these hasty utterances of RANDOLPH. And, as we understand, he was implored to desist, and warned of the effects his course would produce against our interests with the people of the North. To these importunities and warnings he turned a deaf ear, and launched forth a series of denunciations of Northern men generally—one of his articles being illustrated by a gallows scene, a picture, Mr. RANDOLPH stated, of what would befall emigrants to Alabama from north of the Ohio river.

The press of Alabama unanimously condemned the course of RANDOLPH, and the Democracy through their constituted committees repudiated him as an exponent of Democratic policy; but, notwithstanding this, the Cincinnati Commercial, which makes money by the sale of campaign documents, republishes the obnoxious article of RANDOLPH, with the more obnoxious picture, and heralds both to the world as something for which not alone Tuskaloosa county and the State of Alabama, but the whole South, is responsible. Just as before the war, the South was held to answer for every word of scorn or hate expressed by men who, without brains enough to think, and often full of swagger that bad whisky begets, vented their self-conceited patriotism, in swearing at a foe a thousand miles away.

It is not possible for the people of the South to prevent men of RANDOLPH'S animus from expressing themselves as they please; they have tried it and failed. We submit, then, to the editor of the Commercial, that it is among the most disgraceful of his many efforts to copy the New York Tribune, thus to spread dismay and alarm among his own people, by publishing the wretched twaddle of an Editor crazed by Radical persecution and malignity, as the expression, in any sense, of the people of the South. And it is all the more disgraceful inasmuch as the Commercial is in possession of the facts we have recited as the action of the Democracy of Alabama, in this matter.

MEMPHIS AS A MARKET.

The planters and farmers of the section of the Mississippi Valley of which Memphis is the center, owe to our merchants a debt of gratitude that no money, nor any amount of trading can liquidate.

Immediately upon the close of the war they were besieged for assistance by planters and farmers of every calibre; and freely, and with as open hand as the prevalent prosperity of the times hereabout permitted, gave whatever was asked for of money, provisions, clothing and farming or household utensils. The year succeeding '65 was not as prosperous, and many failures in planting, owing to the disorganized labor system, made tight times with our mercantile community; yet they were almost as unstinted in their help to the planter as before. Extensions of credit at the banks were resorted to, and loans at heavy rates; and, in many instances, at a cost the ruin of the merchant, the cultivators of the soil were saved from execution and once more enabled to "try their luck."

Regretfully we say it, some planters, unmindful of the obligations resting upon them to help their Memphis merchants, shipped their cotton to other cities, and shirked the responsibility of meeting men they were not prepared to pay. Not a few cases of this sort, coupled with the failure of one or two banking institutions, begat distrust, and a gloom of most distressing nature settled upon this community.

As we said at the outset, the debt, from the country to the city, under the peculiar circumstances attending it, was not only a debt of money, but one of gratitude. The planter could not go North and buy on credit the supplies he procured here, and no other city in the Southwest offered half the facilities in that respect that Memphis did. Then, too, our merchants were to some extent so independent at the time, that they and so added to the thousand new annoyances of the planters. Despair would have seized them, and the result have been a ruin from which the merchant, as some have done, could have escaped by shipping his goods to a market, and withdrawing his capital to a more profitable field.

The debt thus formed has not, so far as we know, been lessened to any appreciable extent. It still stands against the planting interest, and should be an additional incentive to those we offer for the planter leaving in Memphis every dollar he has to spare.

From and to our city, freights by river and rail have been cheapened to a degree that affords no excuse, to persons anxious for our success, not shipping every ounce of their produce to this market. We sell goods as cheap as the merchants of Louisville, St. Louis or Cincinnati, and in many cases, at New York rates, freight and handling only added. We have all the facilities for re-packing, compressing, and storage of cotton; and, we can say in truth, with less of that objectionable system of charges and short-weighing which has been the source of frequent and just complaint with the planting class as to other cities.

In the retail way we have handsome stores, representing every description of trade, and generally all the attractions that belong to a city of our proportions. Just now, to be sure, there is a derth of amusement, but in a week or two the theater will be under full headway, and we can then contrast for our country-cousins our foremost place of amusement with like resorts in other of the cities of the Southwest.

Our facilities, by rail and telegraph, are such as that whatever may be needed for food or raiment, or enjoyment, not on hand, can be ordered with a promptness and delivered with a dispatch the planter or the country merchant cannot compete with.

Notwithstanding the pressure upon us, we have not been idle—our city is growing. Persons of influence from abroad are seeking our market for investment; Carrying Companies of the North and West, with large capital, are located here; and enterprising men of our own commercial circles, have just or are about establishing cotton presses, oil manufactories, and other industries. Memphis is not only a place to trade with, but it is a place where, sure ultimately of large returns, the planter and farmer may invest their surplus earnings. We invite the earnest attention of the small dealers of surrounding towns to the facts presented, and we invite the earnest attention of good, solvent men everywhere; but especially, we press upon the attention of the planters who owe us, to come up like men and square their accounts, so far as they can; and they may depend upon it our merchants will appreciate their efforts and help them along next year. In any case let us have a fair trial.

CONGRESSIONAL DECEIT---PUBLIC EXPENDITURES---INCREASE OF THE PUBLIC DEBT.

About the time of the adjournment of Congress the infamous New York Tribune and all the lesser lights of villainous Radicalism, made a fine point in favor of their party, by showing the reduction in public expenditures made by Congress, and that the appropriations were $100,000,000 or more, less than those of the year preceding. OILY-GAMMON WASHBURNE, of Illinois, too, who has great ambition to be considered the Cerberus of the Treasury, in a speech glorifying Radical economy, (God save the mark!) said he had no doubt the Democratic heads of Departments would, at the session in December next, be clamorous for deficiency-appropriations; thus, in advance, lying for the sake of covering up the contemptible deceit of Congress, resorted to for the purpose of cheating the people into the belief that the Radical is the party of economy, and therefore, entitled to re-election. These absurd statements of journals and politicians in the interest of Radicalism, created so much confusion in monetary circles North, that three of the leading merchants of New York—Messrs. HENRY GRINNELL, ROYAL PHELPS and WILSON G. HUNT—addressed a letter to ALEXANDER DELMAR, Director of the Bureau at Washington, asking:

I—What have been the total receipts and expenditures of the Government during the past three fiscal years?

II.—What are the estimated expenditures of the current fiscal year? What appropriations were demanded by the Treasury? What appropriations were granted by Congress; and when Congress adjourned what appropriations remained as available sources of authority for the expenditure of money from the Treasury?

He replies to the first inquiry, that the receipts were $1,600,320,619 12; and the expenditures, $1,383,834,998 65.

To the second he replies that the expenditures of the present fiscal year will amount to $482,059,291 23; that the Treasury demanded authority to expend $481,487,437 73, to meet which Congress appropriated $321,620,000.

Thus if the Treasury endeavors to meet its current expenditures this year (to say nothing of matured claims deferred, or of the Postoffice Deficiency), it will show a deficit of $154,339 292 25 at the end of the year, to be obtained from increased taxes or loans. Additional taxation is regarded as impracticable, and there is, therefore, no apparent way out of the present difficulty, but to increase the public debt by the issue of more bonds. This the Treasury has power to do, until the whole sum of the public debt amounts to 2,827,000, or its amount at the date of the passage of the act of 12th April, 1866.

To the third he replies that the condition of the Treasury, on the first of January, 1869, will be such as to show only a balance of $28,247,636 16, of which several millions will consist of trust funds, which the Treasury cannot use. And that on the first of June, 1869, it will exhibit a deficiency of $154,000,000.

A late dispatch says that this truthful expose of DELMAR'S, bearing upon its face evidences of its authenticity, has created among the leading Radicals at Washington the wildest consternation, and that they were resorting to every means possible to them to buy up, from under-strappers of the Treasury, a semi-official contradiction of it. But, as Mr. MCCULLOCH, Secretary of the Treasury, has assented to the truth of the statement, and the exactness of the figures, the people may rest satisfied with the results, and that nothing the Radicals can do will in the least affect a fact so damaging to their interests, especially before the Northern public.

ALABAMA.

SELMA, October 2.—The Democratic State Mass Meeting was largely attended. The audience is estimated at 20,000, of whom 3000 were negroes. All the counties in Middle Alabama were represented, most of them by clubs. The procession was two miles long. Speeches were made by Gen. Chilton, Gov. Watts, J. M. M. Taylor, H. A. Herbert, Gov. Winston, and C. W. Lee. The speeches were all earnest and loyal. Gov. Watts made an eloquent apostrophe to the National flag, which was more loudly cheered than any other remark. The torchlight procession last night was a magnificent affair. The streets were filled with people, and all the principal houses in the city illuminated. There were several colored clubs in the procession.

MONTGOMERY, October 2.—The Legislature has passed the registration bill. It awaits the signature of the Governor, who will probably return from Washington to-morrow. It is thought the bill has been delayed so long that the Registrars will not complete their work in time for the Presidential election. The feeling is quite strong with the Republicans to cast the vote of the State. The Speaker of the House took the floor in advocacy of it.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, October 2.—The Democrat says that Messrs. Monteks and Alsop, with over fifty men, went to Fulton county, Arkansas, where Capt. Mason, Superintendent of Registration, was assassinated, and captured four men who were engaged in that act, and after a trial by a vigilance committee, hung them.

The Democrat has also information that a difficulty in regard to registration occurred at Martinsburg, Adair county, in the north of Missouri, Tuesday, which resulted in the killing of three men, and the severely wounding of James Galleway, the Registrar at that place.

The first race of the Laclede course today was for a purse of $500, mile heats, free for all. The entries and status were Ontario, Gilroy and Starlight. Gilroy took the first heat, and Ontario the second and third. Time, 1:46¾, 1:46¾, 1:54¼.

The second race was for the Railroad purse of $600, two mile heats, free for all. The entries and status were Chickamauga, Sundown and Little Mack. Sundown won the race in straight heats. Time, 3:55¼, 3:43¼.

The weather was beautiful and the attendance large. The track is still heavy.

Reduction

RATES OF TELEGRAPHING!

[CARD.]

MEMPHIS, October 1, 18 8.

TO THE CITIZENS OF MEMPHIS:

It is with pleasure that the Southern Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company announce that the office in the city of Memphis will be opened at No. Eighteen (18) Madison Street in a few days, for the reception and dispatch of telegraphic messages.

When the office is opened, the citizens of Memphis will enjoy the same reductions in the cost of telegraphing which have, at all times, followed upon the extension of the wires of this Company to other cities.

The rates will be announced upon the opening of the office, and the reduction will be in the same proportion to rates heretofore prevailing, as those which have been made at other points.

The people of Memphis should not fail to bear in mind that reductions in the charge for telegraphing are, and always have been, the result of the building and completion of a competing telegraph line, and that in the patronage extended to such a company lies its ability to continue to, and increase for the public, the benefits arising from low charges for telegraphs.

The Southern Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company would therefore respectfully solicit from the people of Memphis the same generous patronage which has been at all other points extended to it, and secured to the citizens of other cities, a permanent cheap rate for telegraphing, besides creating from competition greater correctness and rapidity in the transmission of messages.

REYNOLDS, the negro wife beater, was yesterday committed to jail by 'squire Black, in default of bail in the sum of $300, to answer at the next term of the Criminal Court.

AS A SIGN of improving business, we heard two merchants state yesterday that they had found collections comparatively very easy during the past three days.

IMMEDIATELY after the Gayoso bank building was knocked off to Mr. John H. Bills, a well known moneyed man stepped up to him and offered him three thousand dollars on his bargain.

BOB PLEASANTS, the negro who shot Jeff. Logan, was arrested yesterday and carried before 'squire Black, who committed him to jail without bail, to answer before him this morning at ten o'clock. Logan's condition is very critical, and he may die at any moment.

ADVERTISE in the WEEKLY APPEAL if you want to reach the country dealers in the adjoining States.

A REGULAR Job Trotter of a beggar is going the rounds of the city and by his tears and sighs drawing considerable small change from the tender-hearted of both sexes. He is a German, and speaks with a very strong accent. His facility of "creepin' the briny" is truly wonderful and likely to impose on the most astute. We warn the public against him.

AN UNFORTUNATE typographical error converted in our local yesterday morning, the word "cure" into "case," and had us making Dr. Norris effecting of a case of total blindness, instead of a cure of the same. The context would show the absurdity of the error, but it is nevertheless very annoying both to the Doctor and ourselves.

A PROVERB---CHILLS NO MORE.---The Texas Tonic Syrup is guaranteed to cure any case of fever and ague, no matter of how long standing, the directions on the bottle being scrupulously followed. It is a purely vegetable preparation, perfectly innoxious, pleasant to the taste, speedy in its action, and sold at a price so low as to place it in the reach of every one. Sold by Druggists generally.

DURING the speaking at Covington on Thursday, about three o'clock in the afternoon, the alarm of fire was sounded, and before aid could be rendered or the flames subdued, the residence of R. C. Smith, Esq., was entirely destroyed. The building was a two-story frame house, and belonged to a widow named Jones, upon whom the loss falls very heavily, as it was all she had on earth, except the ground it was built on. Mr. Smith succeeded in saving all of his furniture and effects.

A HANDSOME saloon, and one where the very best of wines, liquors and cigars can always be found, with the most polite and attentive barkeepers to serve them out, is Philip Fransiola's, on the northwest corner of Union and Second streets. His brandy is "A No. 1," and so pronounced by connoisseurs, and his whisky cannot be beat. Fransiola invites his thirsty friends to give him a call.

THE MINSTRELS.---The New Memphis Theater was again crowded last night with the fashion and beauty of the city, who were amused until a late hour by the songs, jokes, and comicalities of the Emerson, Allen and Manning troupe. The artists composing this corps are among the most finished in the country. The entire freedom of their jests from smutty double entendre, and the absence of vulgarity of every sort, in their entertainments, are the prime recommendations of this troupe. There will be but one more entertainment, and we hope that the Theater will be crowded this evening, to give the gentlemen a parting benefit.

ADVERTISERS will consult their interests by sending in their local notices and advertisements for the SUNDAY APPEAL at an early hour.

PERSONAL.

We had the pleasure of a visit, a day or two since, from Messrs. Thompson and Beech, of the State Central Democratic Committee, who are in the city on business connected with the interests of the party. They give most encouraging accounts of affairs, and imparted some valuable advice as to the method of conducting our canvass here.

Gen. Albert Pike returned to the city yesterday from a short business trip to New Orleans.

Maj. Sam P. Rose, of the Tipton county Record, of Covington, Tenn., is in the city on a short visit.

The Hon. John W. Leftwich returned to the city yesterday from a short visit to Tipton county. He pronounces the crops in that county good, notwithstanding what has been said to the contrary. The corn crop, he says, is magnificent.

WHEN the Plantation Bitters were first made known to the American people some seven years ago, it was supposed they were an entirely new thing, and had never before been used. So far as their general use in the United States is concerned, this may be true. It is also true that the same bitters were made and sold in the island of St. Thomas over forty years ago, as any old planter, merchant or sea Captain doing business with the West Indies, will tell you. It is distinctly within my recollection that on the return of my father (who was a sea captain, and doing an extensive trade in the tropics), he would invariably have the bitters among the ship's stores, and our family sideboard was never without them. For any sickness, it matters not how severe or trifling, the decanter of these bitters, by a different name, was always resorted to as a sovereign remedy.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Immense Barbecue at Covington.

Speaking by Messrs. Leftwich, Etheridge and Vaughan.

We learn that the most enthusiastic and numerously attended political gathering of the campaign in that section, so far, was held at Covington, Tipton county, on Thursday. It was not known until within a day or two of his arrival, that Mr. Etheridge would address the people of Tipton, at Covington at least, so that the barbecue was entirely impromptu, and, perhaps, it was all the better for having been so. There were several thousand persons on the ground, a great portion of whom were freedmen. The Hon. Emerson Etheridge addressed the assemblage before dinner, making a most powerful and telling speech, of three hours' duration. After dinner, Maj. Vaughan spoke for half an hour, and the Hon. John W. Leftwich followed him, consuming about the same time. Altogether, the meeting is described by those who participated therein, as a most pleasant and successful affair.

REAL ESTATE.

Sale of the Gayoso Bank Property---Rapid Decline in Prices.

The magnificent building formerly occupied by the defunct Gayoso Bank, situated on Madison street, south side, between Center alley and Main street, was, yesterday, sold under the hammer by Royster, Trezevant & Co. As it was, perhaps, the most important auction sale of real estate that has taken place in Memphis since the Overton hotel was sold at public outcry, it naturally attracted considerable attention. Quite a number of capitalists, men whose names are household words in Memphis had gathered at the spot some time before the hour at which the sale was to begin,---and were all earnestly engaged in discussing the property---its actual and relative value---the amount it would probably bring, and the interest its rental would pay on given amounts. Mr. Trezevant, on commencing the sale, in a few words, described the property, and announced the terms on which it was to be disposed of---one-half cash and the balance in four months. The first bid was for $16,000---bid by some one in the crowd, whom we were unable to see. Seventeen, eighteen and nineteen thousand rapidly succeeded each other---all bid in the space of a minute and a half. But at nineteen thousand dollars bids began to flag, and "nineteen thousand dollars" was cried by the auctioneer a dozen times or more, before an advance was made upon it. At last it came from an elderly gentleman with a rubicund face---slowly and half jerked out---"a hundred more." This seemed to give a little impetus, and two, three, four and five hundred dollars additional, were rapidly offered. At nineteen thousand five hundred, the auctioneer again struck and rarmided so five minutes and more, during which time he descanted in glowing terms on what a bargain was then and there offered them. "Fifty better" was at last offered by a gentleman standing in the door, behind the auctioneer, and who seemed to have a private line of telegraph with some gentleman in the window of the third story of the buildings opposite. "Fifty better," and by slow bits of fifty dollars at a time, twenty thousand dollars was attained. Here there was a short standstill, but bidding again commenced, and fifty by fifty, with an occasional "spirt" of a hundred, twenty thousand eight hundred was reached. This for thirteen minutes, was the figure offered. "Twenty thousand eight hundred," sang out the auctioneer, and again and again he repeated it, varying the tune, once in a while, with "one time I'll call call it." At last, becoming weary, he seemed about to "knock it off" at that price, when there was a stir in the crowd, and a new voice sang out, "twenty-one thousand dollars!" "A bid is," was the general impression, but it was not, and the new voice soon seemed to have things its own way. Bidding again became lively, and at last after a struggle of fully an hour and three quarters the acme was attained---twenty-two thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars "Once, twice, last time I call it---twenty-two thousand, seven hundred and fifty dollars, and gone to Mr. ---, what's your name sir?" Mr. Jno. H. Bills, of Bolivar, Tenn. And so this piece of property, now but half rented, yet paying a rental of three thousand dollars a year, goes for twenty-two thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars. The two story building on the northwest corner of Center alley and Madison street, just across the way from the one just sold, and not one-fourth so costly a structure, sold, three years ago, for fifty-two thousand dollars, nearly thirty thousand dollars more.

This is simply a comment on the times, and illustrates more forcibly than anything else could, the scarcity among us of cash for investment in real estate. "One-half cash, and the balance at four months," is nearly equivalent to all cash, and the purchaser will, in all probability, pay the whole amount in cash, discounting his own note at current rates, saving thereby over a thousand dollars.

This sale of real estate shows capitalists abroad what a field is open to them here for investment of certain kinds, unsurpassed, and we cordially invite their attention thereto.

GEN. PIKE.---Some of the politicians of St. Louis are much exercised that Gen. Albert Pike, during his late visit to that city, should have made a political speech in St. Louis. The Times thus settles the matter: "It is said by a city paper that Mr. H. L. Palmer regrets that any prominent Mason has seen fit to address any political assemblies in this city, for the reason that Masons were convoked for very different purposes. Perhaps he regrets that a prominent Mason has seen fit, while not employed in the Grand Council, to prepare the papers in a heavy suit in the United States court. Surely no Mason, in social intercourse with the citizens of St. Louis, has hesitated to give utterance to his reasons for adhesion to Grant and Colfax or Seymour and Blair, and if not why was it improper for a distinguished political writer and speaker to give utterance to the same reasons in a more public manner and in the presence of thousands desirous of hearing him?" If Gen. Pike had spoken in Chicago, instead of Tammany Hall, his conduct would be neither more nor less reprehensible, and still would be none the less obnoxious to the criticism of those who may differ from him. In any event there was never a richer intellectual feast spread before the people than that for which the assemblage at Tammany Hall was indebted to the matchless logic and simple eloquence of Albert Pike."

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH CO. announce in another column, that they will open an office for the transaction of business in this city at No. 13 Madison street, in a few days. While entertaining nothing but feelings of friendship and respect for the present telegraph line and its officials and employees at this point, we cannot refrain from expressing our unqualified pleasure in making this notice. Competition is the soul of trade, and a public without it are ever at the mercy of monopolies. We cannot hope for a reduction in telegraph tariffs until we have competing lines, and their ability to do so during the hard ds of low telegraphing rates rise in the amount of patronage extended to them by the public. We therefore bespeak for the new line, from the people of Memphis, the same generous patronage which has been at all other points extended to it, and secured to the citizens of other cities, a permanent cheap rate for telegraphing, beside creating from competition greater correctness and rapidity in the transmission of messages.
The rates will be announced upon the opening of the office, and the reduction will be in the same proportion to rates heretofore prevailing as those which have been made at other points.

TO ADVERTISERS.---We take a limited number of advertisements for the WEEKLY APPEAL, the circulation of which is larger than any weekly in the State. For rates apply at the counting room, 13 Jefferson street.

ARMS! ARMS! ARMS!

Muskets and Ammunition for the Loyal Leagues.

Five Car Loads of Arms for the Carpet-baggers.

We learn through sources that we cannot for a moment doubt the accuracy of, that the steamer Belle Memphis, now on her down trip, is bringing hither, for clandestine distribution among the Loyal Leaguers in our midst, six thousand stand of arms, and large quantities of ammunition. These arms have been bought and subscribed by the Loyal Leagues and Grand Army of the Republic, in the Northwest, five car loads of them, and they are shipped as we have stated, on the steamer Belle Memphis, and will arrive here on Sunday night.

We make publication of this in the hope that our authorities will take prompt steps to seize the illegal freight, and hold it until there is such explanation made as will be satisfactory.

One of our informants stated that these arms and the ammunition are intended for Arkansas, and that Barbour Lewis, so anxious to engage in the murder of our citizens, according to the Bulletin, was the emissary of the Arkansas Leagues to negotiate the transaction. If so, he has done his work well, and in the dispatch that has characterized his latest effort at bloody mischief, has afresh entitled himself to the confidence of his infamous confreres.

We hope Cammissioner Beaumont, whom we believe to be opposed to Lewis and his clan, will be on the lookout for this freight.

THE COURTS.

MUNICIPAL COURT---Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.---The following business was transacted on yesterday:
Lamb vs Falls & Co., judgment for plaintiff, $695 50.
Andrews vs Eddins & Co., judgment for plaintiff, $967 63.
The argument in case of Hampton vs McCombs, will be heard this morning at 9 o'clock.
To-day after the above case shall have been disposed of, motions will be heard and writs of inquiry extended. Motions for new trials will also be heard.

LAW COURT---H. S. Lee, Judge.---In Chambers. The habeas corpus case of Isaac Allschuler vs Sheriff, was concluded on yesterday by the discharge of the prisoner from custody, the demurrer of the defendant to the return of the sheriff being sustained. It will be remembered that Allschuler was a citizen of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, and was arrested there by the agents of the Governor of Pennsylvania on a requisition. The agent, Smith, was intercepted in this city by a habeas corpus and on hearing before Judge Hunter, the prisoner was remanded over to appear within thirty days, to give the agent time to procure the necessary papers from Arkansas. An informal and defective bond being taken by the Sheriff, through mistake, the prisoner surrendered himself and was again brought out on habeas corpus, which resulted in his discharge as above stated.

CRIMINAL COURT---Wm. Hunter Judge.---In chambers, an investigation was had on yesterday upon a bench warrant in the case of the State vs Richard Hines, W. Hines and Thos. Regan, charged with assault and battery upon the person of a negro woman, and a true stereo assault to kill her husband. The case developed merely the striking of the negro woman, Julia Sumner, for insolence, by Thos. Regan. Mr. Richard Hines and his son were discharged, there being no case against them, but the defendant, Thos. Regan, was fined $5 and costs. When there are so many justices of the peace throughout the county, it is strange that so many trivial cases come before our superior courts on preliminary investigation. It is a great hardship upon persons living in the country to have to come to Memphis with their witnesses to answer petit charges arising out of difficulties with negroes. But of late judicial bench warrants seem to be flying around loose throughout the county, ignoring altogether the existence of county magistrates.

SHELBY CIRCUIT COURT---George W. Reese, Judge.---The following cases were disposed of yesterday:
State of Tennessee vs Linde et al, verdict for plaintiff $803; Copeland et al vs Robinson, dismissed for want of prosecution; Daniels, ex'x vs Anderson et al, dismissed for want of prosecution; Gage et al vs Mc Cooney, dismissed by plaintiff; Moore et al vs James, judgment for plaintiff $61 81. In the case of Hoyt, ex'x vs Bedford the jury had not returned a verdict last evening.
The Grand Jury returned a large number of presentments on yesterday, against Guardians, Administrators and Executors, who had failed to make returns of their official acts to the County Court.
To day the case of Logan vs Hartford City and Syracuse Coal Company, commenced on yesterday, will be argued by counsel. The matter in controversy are damages in $2500---the value of a negro boy drowned in 1866, while in the employment of defendants on a coal barge.
The cases set for trial to-day are from number 16 to number 30, inclusive. The cases up to number 45 were on the calendar of yesterday.

MEMPHIS, October 3.---Weather warm and threatening, but no rain up to a late hour last night. The river is rising fast at this point, but it has not less than 15 feet to go to reach high water mark. The surface is covered with foam and drift is abundant. Water over it is failing. It had receded ten feet at Jacksonport when the Mayflower came out, but is bank full at the lower end. The Arkansas is falling. The upper Mississippi, Missouri and upper Ohio are falling. The latter stream is rising about two feet per day at Cairo. The Tennessee and Cumberland are falling.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the levee yesterday was moderately active. The Importer put off a lot of freight, and the Mayflower had a good trip from White river.
Capt. Mike Fyne still liveth. He goes into his old business immediately, and will open at the corner of Jefferson and Promenade streets, in the Elliott block. His stock of meats, ice, milk, etc., will be of the very best, as in times of yore, and we wish him all the success he deserves.
The Belle Memphis comes next trip with a full load of muskets and ammunition for the Loyal Leagues of this State and Arkansas. War is imminent.
The Importer, Capt. Williams, with Mr. John Bird in the office, will leave to-day for Fort Smith and way points on the Arkansas.
The Mary E. Forsyth, Capt. Zeigler, will leave this evening for Cairo and St. Louis, making close connection with the trains for all points east, and with the White Collar line for St. Paul. Messrs. White and Briggs are her popular clerks.
The Mollie Able was due last night.
The fine packet Silver Moon, Capt. Ben Merrifield, came in last night with a good trip, and leaves on Tuesday for Cairo and Cincinnati. The Silver Moon is a fine packet. She beat the Associated Press dispatch from Cairo to this port some three hours. The press reporter at Cairo is an enterprising cuss, and his enargy should not go unrewarded. A second hand leather medal is wanted immediately.
We are pained to announce the death, last evening, of Capt. Wm. M. Patterson, one of our most energetic citizens, and well known to all river men, in connection with the old Memphis Transfer Company. Capt. Patterson has been gathered to his fathers in the prime of his life and usefulness, and while we, in common with many friends, offer our sympathies to his family and relatives, we must not loose sight of the Christian's hope that "He doeth all things well." His funeral takes places to-day at 3 p.m.
The Mayflower, Capt. Ashford, is the regular U. S. mail packet for White river to-day, making all landings to Jacksonport, and connecting at Devall's Bluff with the Little Rock train. Charley Gunther is clerk of this elegant packet.
The Mississippi did not get away from New Orleans until last evening, and the Belle Lee leaves there to-night.
Capt. John F. Douglas, well known in the St. Louis and New Orleans trade, has entered on his duties of steamboat agent, and is now connected with the well-known and energetic agency of Messrs. A. Britton & Co., of New Orleans.
The Argonaut and Legal Tender leave Louisville to-day---the former for White river, and the latter for New Orleans.
The Luminary went to Natchez this trip. She will be up on her regular day.
The Ruth will pass down on Sunday for Vicksburg and New Orleans.
The Van Buren, of the Arkansas river packet company, will be in port to leave this evening for Pine Bluff and Little Rock. She is one of the finest steamers of her class afloat and is commanded by Capt. Tom Berry, the godfather of half the children along the Backbreak. The Van Buren carries the United States mail to Pine Bluff.
Capt. John S. Dales, an old steamboat master, and recently clerk of the Westmoreland, died at his home in East Rochester, Ohio, recently, in the 58th year of his age.
The last coal rafu from Pittsburg foots up 2,180,000 bushels.
The steamers Rebecca and Dick Fulton collided Wednesday night, opposite Wheeling, Ohio, near the foot of the island, the Fulton losing her entire wheel, breaking both pitmans, cylinder timbers and one cylinder. The Rebecca was not damaged.
Capt. Mark Cheek's new ferryboat has been launched at Madison, Ind. Her dimensions are 160 feet long, 28 feet breadth of beam, with 5 feet depth of hold. She will be towed to this port, where she will receive the machinery of the Peosta.
The Little Rock Gazette of the 30th ult. says: The river was falling fast yesterday. It fell fully 2 feet during the past 24 hours, but we can report no bottom in channel as yet.
A Radical reporter makes the following pen pictures of prominent members of the late Steamboat Convention at Louisville:
First, then, as being the presiding officer of the association, the present year; and as having taken the most active part in the debates, we will speak of Capt. E. W. Gould, of St. Louis. He was temporary chairman of the organization of the convention which met at Cincinnati October 17, 1867, and continued to act in that capacity until the arrival of the president elect, Capt. R. H. Woolfolk, of Louisville.
At the meeting at Louisville he was always ready and anxious for discussion, in order to render all action as perfect as possible. He is a modest, but agreeable speaker, always aiming to get at the points of the subject in a plain, practical way. Sometimes this led him into the error of being prosy, by making his remarks too extended, but this occurred only once or twice.
Capt. A. C. Goodin, of New Orleans, is a gentleman of fine appearance, excellent judgment and a fair debater. We are disposed to believe that Capt. Goodin is a politician, and probably one of the wire workers, from what we considered an unfortunate remark at the banquet at Willards', in regard to the waiters at the latter.
Capt. J. Stut Neal, of Richmond, has good ideas, but cannot express them. He was very much embarrassed at the banquet when his steamer was toasted---so much so as to be unable to respond in appropriate words.
Capt. George Kirk, of New Orleans, is evidently used to ruling with an iron hand, and seldom hesitated to utter his sentiments. While we should take him to be a man of strong will, yet he has a pleasant utterance which took off much of the occasional roughness in his remarks.
Capt. James Griffith, of the Northern line packet company, is a modest, sensible man, with sufficient will to carry out any project he undertakes, but probably counts the cost before commencing any project. We never attended a meeting of practical business men where there were so many who were able to say what they wanted to, and in proper terms and in a proper manner. Capt. Sachse, Capt. R. S. Kirk, Capt. Ed. Callahan, Capt. Sherley, Capt. Billings and Capt. R. C. Levi, where it was necessary for them to speak, always spoke to the point.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FINANCE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, October 3, 1868.

One of the most important matters to which we can call the attention of our business men to-day is the completion of the Southern Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph line, which will establish an office in our city next week. Our merchants have been taxed so heavily in the matter of dispatches, comparatively to other cities north of us, which have competing lines running through them, that it is a matter of no small moment to feel that they are no longer at the mercy of a monopoly, but that the cost of this valuable adjunct to business will be reduced very materially. The new Company pledge themselves to reduce the rates proportionably as low from Memphis as they have done from all other points where they have established their offices. There is no reason why a dispatch should cost twice as much from Memphis to New York as from Louisville to the same point; but we are assured that such has been the fact heretofore. While the business men of Memphis have reason to congratulate themselves upon the completion of this line the press of our city are no less interested. Cheap passage, cheap freights, cheap postage, etc., are the orders of the day, and cheaper facilities for telegraphing must follow when opposition is introduced.

The quarterly statements of our National Banks will appear on Monday, and will make a good showing. They are all stronger than they were at the same period last year, having less standing out and larger currency balances, enabling them to meet all requirements of cotton buyers with comparative ease. While the banks are in better condition the planter must also be better off, as in most instances where cotton has been sent to this market instructions accompany it to sell and remit proceeds. This demand for currency from the interior is for the payment of freedmen in the majority of cases, but we know of several instances where remittances have been made to those who are entirely out of doors—not even owing for the labor which has made the crop.

Exchange is heavy, and rates are tending downwards. Eastern cotton bills are taken from regular customers at ¼ discount, but ⅜ discount was the ruling rate to-day to outsiders. Bank exchange among dealers passes at par, but the selling rate is firm at ¼ premium on New York.

Gold opened in New York at 139¼, and closed at 139¼. We quote at 138 buying. Selling at 139c.

Bonds and Stocks are dull and nominal. There is no disposition on the part of holders to accept the offering rates on city bonds or railroad securities of any kind. Dealers having orders for the former are limited to 49@50c delivered in New York or Baltimore, but are unable to fill.

City Scrip is steady, with the demand only in a small way. 870s changed hands to-day at 75c. Dealers buy at 70@75c. Selling at 75@78c.

County Warrants are firm. Buying at 54@56c for large pieces. Small ones, 57@58c. Selling at 58@59c.

Police Scrip buying at 80c. Selling at 85c.

The Gayoso Bank building, the property of Col. C. J. Seiden, was sold at auction yesterday, and attracted a large number of our capitalists. The sale was for cash, Mr. W. H. Bills, of Bolivar, Miss., was the purchaser for the sum of $22,750.

COTTON.

Cotton was advancing, and the demand was active at the opening to-day in Liverpool. Uplands, 10½d; Orleans, 10¾d. At noon the market was buoyant; Uplands, 10¾d; Orleans, 10¾d. There was no closing dispatch, but an Extra received quoted Uplands, 10¾d; Orleans, 10¾d; Uplands afloat, 10¾d. Sales, 18,000 bales. TRADE.

The jobbing trade remains very much as it was yesterday—active in spots. The fair weather, which is favorable for cotton picking, is being taken advantage of by planters, and very few of them feel inclined to leave their fields to visit the city at this season. Country merchants, however, are in town, and are buying as liberally as their means will permit. The boot and shoe, as well as the dry goods trade is active, and all dealers in the above branches of business report large accessions of orders. With the establishment of a line of Vicksburg packets which will restore to us at least a portion of the trade which has been tortured into other channels by our own apathy more than by any other means, we will again be in the midst of that bustle and life which should ever be perceptible in our city, enjoying as it does the advantages of situation, with a country tributary to it which cannot be surpassed any where in the world for fertility and diversity of products. The general markets are firm, and prices are sustained in all articles, while meats are tending upwards.

The Philadelphia Commercial List says: At Chicago there were on the 23d ult. but 4,250,000 lbs. D. S. meats (consisting of 2,700,000 lbs. shoulders; 1,000,000 lbs. clear sides, and 550,000 lbs. clear ribs), and that of these 850,000 lbs. clear ribs have since been shipped to New York, for export to Europe. We have no detailed information as to the stock in either Louisville or Cincinnati, though that of pork in the latter is under 1000 bbls.; but it is conceded to be light at both places now as the market in Cincinnati is rapidly recovering, whilst that at Louisville is very firm. It would seem that the estimates of light stocks at those places is entitled to credence. Here there is very little out of packers' hands, and by estimates made within the past 24 hours, the stock is said to consist of 5613 bbls. of pork; 4,349,850 lbs. of bacon and bulk meats; 998,662 lbs. of hams, and 2864 tcs. and 1219 kegs of lard, which at the rate of consumption now going on would not last until the 1st of November, long before which time prices are expected to rule much higher, not more in consequence of reduced stocks of cured meats than of the certainty that hogs will not only come in late, but at prices that will warrant the planters reduced value of bacon and cut meats. The stock, as taken here July 31st, was 11,780,586 lbs. bulk and bacon; 11,809 bbls. pork; 2,833,890 lbs. hams; 5332 tcs., 2694 kegs lard. At New York the stock of pork will be reduced 17,000 to 20,000 bbls. this month.

The same paper has the following in reference to the demoralization in the tobacco trade:

The tobacco trade is in a very unsettled state, owing to the uncertainty and delay attending the operations of the new internal revenue law. Dealers in leaf are compelled, under heavy duties, to conduct their business according to specified forms, which not one in a hundred understands. Cigar manufacturers are compelled to give excessive bonds, and conform to new regulations, prescribing the manner of packing, branding, stamping, etc., about which there is any amount of discussion as to what is really required. Manufacturers of chewing tobacco are hampered and distressed in every imaginable manner. They cannot prepay the tax as the law demands, and they cannot ship their goods to a market on account of there being no bonded warehouses. The general dealer is in a stew on account of his being obliged to take a full account of his stock every month, and swear to its correctness. In the meantime, the contrabandists are reaping a perfect harvest, and by the time the new stamps are ready (if they ever are) the market will be flooded with illicit goods, that will effectually drive out the productions of those manufacturers who really desire to comply with the law, and should, therefore, be encouraged. The question naturally arises, why is all this? The answer can be given in a very few words. Politicians, for certain reasons known only to themselves, framed a law to suit themselves, which, when presented to business men, showed so many glaring absurdities, that the execution of it is next to impossible. Remonstrances, petitions and complaints from merchants of the highest standing were of no avail, and the consequence is that legitimate trade is paralyzed. Stocks are accumulating at the manufacturing centers, to an enormous figure, and that, too, with many of the factories closed up. The few manufacturers who are still at work in Richmond have already accumulated a million dollars' worth, and are totally unable to move it, in consequence of the delay in the establishment of bonded warehouses. One of these warehouses has been in existence at New York, but the character of the same, its inconvenient location, and other reasons combined, render it useless for the purposes of trade. It was stated a week or two ago, in a prominent newspaper, that the "little difficulty," between Commissioner Rollins and Secretary McCulloch was costing the country $300,000 per day. Where are we drifting to?

WOLFE'S
Schiedam Schnapps.
THE above Medicinal Beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at his distillery, in Rotterdam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use.
It is now some twenty years since the proprietor first introduced it to the American public, and during that time he has received over three thousand letters from physicians, indorsing it as the purest liquor they have ever used in their practices.
It is made from barley of the finest quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic juniper-berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.
As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effect produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South, and South-west are peculiarly liable—the SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS will be found absolutely infallible; while in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, stricture, dyspepsia and general debility, it is recommended upon undoubted authority by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.
It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

COTTON GINS
EAGLE COTTON GINS.
WE are the Sole Agents for the sale of these unrivalled Gin Stands. For beauty of STAPLE, LIGHTNESS OF DRAFT, AND QUANTITY OF LINT COTTON turned out per day, they are unsurpassed. Reference can be safely made to every planter who has given them a fair trial. Where mule power is used, they make a saving of from one-quarter to one-third the draft OVER ANY OTHER GIN. We are also agents for STRAUB'S GRIST MILLS AND WHEELER, CLEMSON & CO.'S CIRCULAR SAWS.

Pratt's Southern Made Cotton Gin
THIS GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for sample, picking the cleanest and light draught. Planters cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Eureka Gin at Farrington & Howell's, 268 Front street, Memphis, where it will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A. N. Gunnison, manufacturer of the Steel Comb Gin before the war but now a planter, gives the following certificate:
"MEMPHIS, TENN., January 31, 1868.
"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands of the Mississippi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers, the Eureka Gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This Gin separates the hulls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Washington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire satisfaction in every respect.
A. N. GUNNISON."
Orders for Gins, from 40 to 80 Saws and Gum Belting, at Factory Prices, addressed to the care of FARRINGTON & HOWELL, 268 Front street, Memphis, promptly filled. Presses and Gearing put up, and Gins repaired by a skillful Ginwright.
G. W. TRUEHART,
jy28 tawém&w Agent for Daniel Pratt.
